

FOLLOW THE RULES

To find out the ending to the phrase that begins “A light purse...,” carefully read each instruction below and do exactly what it says. The first answer has been provided. But beware, following the rules is not as easy as it seems.

1. With no spaces between words, write down the phrase: A LIGHT PURSE
2. Swap the first and third letters.
3. If San Francisco is the capital of California, place an S in the next-to-last position. If not, place an S in the third position.
4. Place an E in the eight position.
5. If Thomas Jefferson was a vice president, place a V before the P. If not, place a V after the P.
6. Place an Y in the tenth position.
7. Place an A after the third vowel.
8. Change the twelfth letter to a C.
9. Remove the second, fifth, and seventh letters.
